

Whether you eat or drink or whatever you do, do all to the glory of God.

I Cor. 10:13

Illiana Christian High School 2261 Indiana Avenue Lansing, Illinois 60438

You began each day with thoughtful devotions. We could sense your dedication to God in your work. Through your patient struggling with us in the classroom, we came to value your sensitive concern for us and our problems.

You were always willing to help. As s senior class sponosr, your assistance and guidance in class activities was appreciated.

For these and many other reasons, Miss Wassenaar, we dedicate this Spire to you.

Thank you, Jewell, you're a real gem.

Whether you eat or drink . . .

... whether you work ...

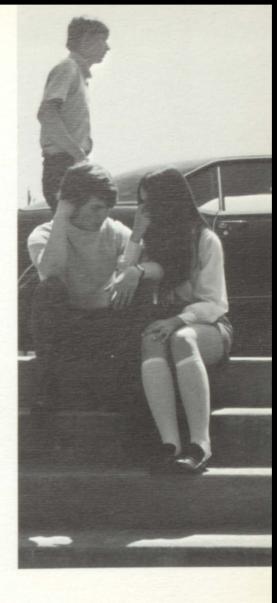

... or play ...

... whether you study ...

... or socialize ...

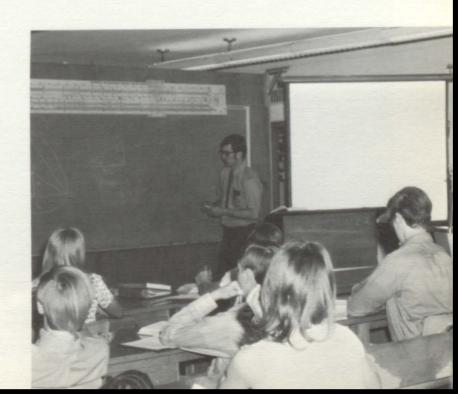

... whether you lead ...

... or follow ...

... or whether you worship ...

... do all to the glory of God.

(paraphrase of I Cor. 10:31)

Discipline problems are handled by Mr. Otte.

Guidance

The Guidance Office — A place filled with college catalogs and pamphlets. That is what some thought of it, but to many it was a place where we could go for help in choosing courses, selecting a college, and seeking out our own goals and responsibilities. Mr. Brouwer and Mr. Geerdes spent many hours listening to our problems and trying their best to give us Christian guidance.

The Ladies Auxiliary is responsible for making our barbeques every Wednesday and preparing the meals for all our school banquets. This is our way of saying thank you for all the work and time you have donated for our enjoyment.

Happiness is a virtue.

Languages: Lessons in cultural appreciation

Repiten Ustedes.

Hören Sie zu ...

Foreign languages open up to students parts of the world that they might never have contact with otherwise. In addition to learning the languages of other peoples, students are exposed to different customs and ways of life. Studying different cultures leads to a deeper appreciation of our own heritage and an increased understanding of the brotherhood of man.

The heart of business is practice, practice, practice. Students are trained in the skills that they will need after they leave school. Only through repetition and drilling can these methods be absorbed quickly and efficiently.

In business you gotta play it straight.

Preparing for the business world

One of the basic principles of typing is not to look at the keys.

Tower based on Brotherly Love

QSL cards line the walls of Joe's radio shack.

Howie and Joe watch as the tower goes up.

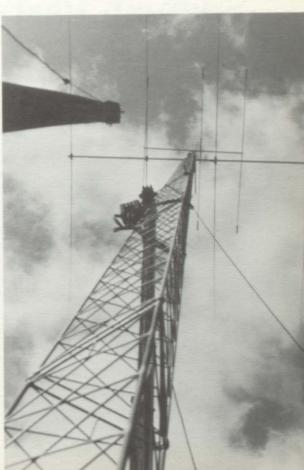

Workmen raise the 100 ft. radio tower.

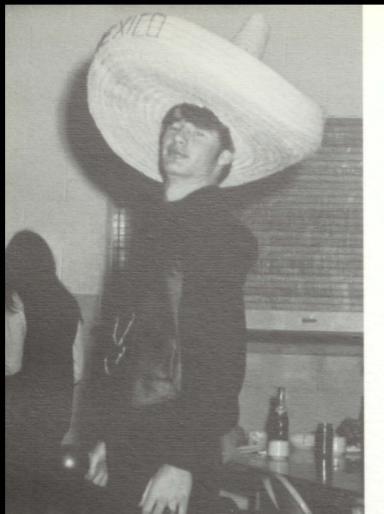

Two Illiana students, Joe and Howie Zeldenrust, have been able to contact nearly 300 countries with their short wave set, but their old antenna didn't always have good reception and power. This spring, a 110 foot high steel tower was raised. Many companies donated time and machines to help with the installation of the tower.

Broadcasting under the call letters WA9SGP, Joe has talked to people all over the world. One of the most exciting contacts was made with King Hussein of Jordan. Joe was able to give information to a midwestern family about their wounded GI son who was recuperating on the island of Guam. Twice a week, he contacts Rev. Steginga, a missionary in Mexico, and enables Rev. Steginga to talk to his parents by connecting his radio to a telephone.

The new tower stretches its arms out to the world.

many injuries

Mark Nymeyer goes up for 2 against the Knights of Chicago

The team gathers round Coach Smit for last minute instructions.

This year's basketball team finished the season with a disappointing 4-8 P.S.L. record, 9-17 overall. Major causes for their poor showing were injuries, the most damaging one was a broken ankle suffered by scoring leader Mark Nymeyer. The team rose to the occasion several times, however, with exciting wins over TFS, Luther North, and St. Joseph Seminary. The Vikings also turned in fine performances against Timothy, Walter Lutheran, and Washington, but fell short of victory. The team will lose six players to graduation, but should have eight returnees from this year's team.

John, Ken, and Pete head toward the locker room after a hard-fought game.
